The Children's Book Council of Australia (CBCA) is a not-for-profit, volunteer-run organisation that strives for positive social impact by engaging the community with quality literature for young Australians.

Best known for creating Children's Book Week, we've been running the CBCA Book of the Year Awards since 1946 to promote Australian children's books of high literary and artistic merit. These awards are celebrated in schools, libraries and by communities throughout Australia and play a vital role in fostering a reading culture across the next generation.

We also run a series of conferences and events throughout the year, all aimed at enriching our nation through the power of the written word.

3 reasons you should join the CBCA NSW Branch:

- Be part of a vibrant group of people passionate about engaging the community in supporting literature for young Australians.
- Help ensure authors, illustrators, publishers, booksellers and educational organisations can bring words, images and stories into the hearts and minds of children and adults.
- Gain VIP access to valuable information on our annual CBCA Book of the Year Notables, Short List and winners, plus receive discounts to events, activities, conferences, professional development and merchandise.
